DareDoll Rio descends the ramp and walks the maze.

At the end, she is momentarily captured with leather whips and led by force, but she pulls a gas bomb from her belt and eludes her captors.

PEEPER

She doesn't seem to get the joke,
so pull the whips tighter and watch
her choke!

RIO

(dropping gas bomb)
Here's a little joke on you, you grinning devils!

The bad guys fall to the floor, gasping. Rio haughtily and calmly sits down to call CrimeBase, but finds herself stuck to the chair. A Peeper appears to show her the "wet glue" sign on the back of the chair.

PEEPER

Guess we should have placed this sign where it might have done you some good, eh, DareDoll?

RIO

I feel like my body is stuck to a gooey candy bar that has been left in the sun!

PEEPER

Well, let's just see how much stickier we can make that sweet body of yours!

He continues to glue her to the chair with a paintbrush, and then removes her boots to tickle her feet with a feather.

PEEPER

We want that DareDoll activation code, Rio. Give it up!

RIO

(laughing)
Don't make me laugh!

PEEPER

The human body can only take so much forced pleasure, candy girl,
and then it must give in!

She passes out from laughter.

She then wakes to find herself tied to train tracks!

PEEPER

You will note that no train is expected any time soon. These tracks, however, conduct electricity very nicely.

He pulls a device from his pocket and touches it to the track. Rio's body arches against the low-level voltage.

PEEPER

You will also note that your lovely body is all a-tingle. What a shocker!

She again passes out.

She next wakes to find she has been gagged and placed on a conveyor, a buzzsaw at the end.

PEEPER

You're too tough to give up what we want, so we're going ahead with Plan 9: As gravity insists, you shall soon find yourself with a splitting headache.

Because the conveyor is at a downward angle, gravity alone forces her toward her doom; making matters worse, every time she cranes her neck to see how much closer she has gotten, she slides down a little bit more. How will she escape?!
